

Language Requirement: Alternative Course Completion

To meet the Core student learning objectives associated with the language requirement, students who have been determined to need accommodations that preclude completing the requirement by taking courses in a language other than English, must complete one language-focused course from Group A and one culture-focused course from Group B.

Group A: Language-focused courses (8 courses)

MSC211: Musicianship I	MSC212: Musicianship II
MSC300: Musicianship III	MSC403: Composition
CSC103: Computer Programming	LIN/SOA200: The Social Fabric: Language in Society
FRN /LIN /SP A245: introduction to Linguistics	LIN345: Intercultural Communication

Group B: Culture-focused courses (58 courses)

CJC243: Comparative Law and Justice	HIS309: Modern Russia
AST/ CHP /SOA190: Introduction to Archaeology	HIS310: Modern England
ART208: History of World Art I: Prehistoric to 1400	HIS311: Modern Ireland
ART209: History of World Art II: 1400 to Today	HIS312: Modern Italy
ART312: Classical Art and Archeology	HIS/POL331: Contemporary Latin America
ART316: Narrative and Meaning in Medieval and Renaissance	HIS/POL332: Contemporary Middle East
Art ART317: Topics in Non-Western Art	HIS/POL333: Contemporary Africa
CHP207: Introduction to Architecture	HIS/POL334: Contemporary Asia
CHP /SOA218: Exploring North American Indian Societies	MGT305: International Issues in Consumer Behavior
ECN263: Global Economics	MGT357: International Marketing MGT391:Japan and the Pacific Rim
ECN392: China's Evolving Economy	MSC100: Introduction to Music
ENG205: Contemporary Global Literature	MSC220: History of Music through 1750
ENG321: British Literature from Beowulf to Everyman	MSC221: Bach to Rock: Music from 1750 to the Present
ENG322: Literature of the English Renaissance	PHL233: Islamic Philosophy PHL234:Chinese Philosophy
ENG326: Restoration and Eighteenth-Century British Lit	PHL271: Ancient and Medieval Philosophy
ENG337: Modern Irish Writers	POL201: Classical Political Philosophy
ENG345: Studies in World Literature	POL202:Modern Political Philosophy
ENG346: Post-Colonial Literature	POL416: Contemporary Europe and Russia
ENG349: Literature from the Middle East	RTS381: Engaging the Jewish Experience
ENG356: World Cinema	RTS382: Engaging the Muslim Experience
ENG375: Vienna and the Modern World	RTS383: Engaging the Hindu Experience
HIS201: Europe 1789-1914 HIS202:Europe 1914-1990s	RTS384: Engaging the Buddhist Experience
HIS203: Hitler and the Holocaust	SOA130: Anthropology: Interpreting Cultural Differences
HIS265: Modern Global His.	SOA249: Global Health: Society, Medicine, and the Body
HIS306: Modern Germany	SOA335: Global Capital
HIS308: Modern France

Students must be approved for a foreign language course substitution by the Student Accessibility Services.

Once approved, students are responsible for notifying the Registrar upon registration of any of the above classes for the purpose of fulfilling the foreign language requirement.

 Please note that one course cannot satisfy two requirements. *****