Salve Regina University COVID Self-Attestation Notification Form for Academics

Student: If you have missed or plan to miss a class, you should be familiar with Salve’s class attendance policy outlined in the Student Handbook. That policy requires students to make contact with their professors about absences. You may find the following form helpful in that conversation.

I, (Name) _____, tested positive for COVID-19 on _____ (date of positive test). Based on the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention’s calculator for isolation, I will be out of classes from (date) _____ to (date) _____. (Isolation is a 5-day period, with day 0 being when symptoms started or the date of positive test).

I understand that it is my responsibility to communicate directly with my professors regarding my time out of classes and any missed work or assignments. I understand that it is my responsibility to make up any assignments or missed work during this period. I understand that it is my responsibility to communicate directly with my professors for any additional missed classes outside of the dates listed above. I understand the professor will determine the appropriate accommodation based on the particularities of the course.
